Imagine you are a Viking (make up your own Viking name), your leader is a man named Leif Ericsson.

You were in a boat that consisted of a primitive sail and a bunch of oars, you were in the ‘open sea’ for several days not knowing exactly where you were going, then you arrive on a strange land where people speak in different languages, have different color skin, and are terrified of you.

Your assignment is to write a ‘diary’ (really you wouldn’t be writing you would be telling this story to your children/grandchildren upon your arrival home).

Your story should be about what you experienced on the Voyage.

This includes the way there, your time spent in the Americas, and your return trip. This should be 1-2 pages in length, and written in the first person (I felt, I saw… etc)
